11 ELIZABETH MONTIEL,

12 Plaintiff,

13 vs.

14 CRESCENT ELECTRIC SUPPLY
15 COMPANY,

16 Defendant.

CASE NO. 08CV0243

ORDER GRANTING PLAINTIFF'S MOTION TO DISMISS WITHOUT PREJUDICE

17 On February 7, 2008, Plaintiff's Complaint alleging unlawful termination of employment was 18 removed to federal court, accompanied by the Answer filed in state court. (Doc. 1-2). On March 5, 19 2008, Plaintiff moved to dismiss the action without prejudice, allowing her to re-file in state court and 20 add a non-diverse Defendant: Jeffrey J. Hoyt, an employee of Defendant allegedly involved in the 21 decision to terminate Plaintiff's employment. (Mot. at 7). The motion is granted for the reasons set 22 forth below.

23 Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 41(a) governs the voluntary dismissal of an action. Once a 24 defendant files an answer or motion for summary judgment, or the parties stipulate to the dismissal
25 of the action, Rule 41(a)(2) provides, "an action may be dismissed at the plaintiff's request only by 26 court order, on terms that the court considers proper." Fed. R. Civ. P. 41(a)(2). "Unless the order
27 states otherwise, a dismissal . . . is without prejudice." Id. The decision to grant or deny a motion 28 pursuant to Rule 41(a)(2) rests "within the sound discretion of the trial court and may be reviewed only

1 for abuse of discretion.” Id.; accord Hargis v. Foster, 312 F.3d 404, 412 (9th Cir. 2002). Because 2 Defendant has answered the Complaint, Rule 41(a)(2) applies.

3 In the ordinary course of events, a motion for dismissal under Rule 41(a)(2) is granted unless 4 the defendant will “suffer clear legal prejudice, other than the prospect of a subsequent suit on the 5 same facts.” Phillips v. Illinois Cent. Gulf Railroad, 874 F.2d 984, 986 (9th Cir. 1989). The Ninth 6 Circuit interprets “legal prejudice” narrowly. The prejudice must affect “some legal interest, some 7 legal claim, [or] some legal argument.” Westlands Water Dist. v. United States, 100 F.3d 94, 96 (9th 8 Cir. 1996). “[T]he inconvenience of defending another lawsuit or the fact that the defendant has 9 already begun trial preparations does not constitute prejudice.” In re Lowenschus, 67 F.3d 1394, 1400-
10 01 (9th Cir. 1995).

11 Defendant argues that because Plaintiff has moved for voluntary dismissal for the express 12 purpose of adding a non-diverse defendant in a second round of state court litigation, the Court should 13 apply the factors considered when deciding a motion to join a non-diverse party following removal
14 pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1447(e). In deciding a Section 1447(e) motion, the Court may consider 15 whether it appears Plaintiff is seeking to join a party solely to destroy diversity of citizenship. Mayes
16 v. Rapoport, 198 F.3d 457, 463 (4th Cir.). Thus, Defendant’s chief argument is that Plaintiff should 17 not be permitted to voluntarily dismiss without prejudice because Plaintiff proposes to add Mr. Hoyt 18 to her proposed state court action for the sole purpose of destroying diversity and manipulating the 19 forum. (Opp. at 6). Defendant argues that because Plaintiff may be prohibited from joining Mr. Hoyt 20 under Section 1447(e), the Court should not permit Plaintiff to voluntarily dismiss her action under 21 Rule 41, thereby allowing her to “obtain through the back door what she cannot get through the front 22 door.” (Opp. at 3).

23 With few exceptions, however, courts have recognized that judicial approval of voluntary
24 dismissal turns not on Plaintiff’s motive for dismissing, but instead on the degree of legal prejudice
25 to Defendant. See, e.g., Home Owners’ Loan Corp. v. Huffman, 134 F.2d 314, 317-318 (8th Cir. 1943)
26 (“Upon a plaintiff’s motion to dismiss without prejudice the equities of the plaintiff are not a subject 27 for consideration under the rule,” and in particular, “the plaintiff’s reasons for desiring to dismiss are 28 immaterial.”); B&J Mfg. v. D.A. Frost Indus., Inc., 106 F.R.D. 351, 352 (D. Ohio 1985) (Plaintiff’s

1 “reasons for desiring dismissal [are] immaterial.”); Spencer v. Moore Bus. Forms Inc., 87 F.R.D. 118, 2 119 (N.D. Ga. 1980)(Plaintiff’s intentions “of no consequence.”). Moreover, courts allow dismissals
3 without prejudice in removed actions “so that a plaintiff may proceed with the litigation in a state
4 court, even if the intention or result is to defeat federal diversity jurisdiction.” Hunter v.
5 Surgitek/Medical Engineering Corp., 1992 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 9696 (N.D. Ind. 1992); See also Grivas
6 v. Parmelee Transport Co., 207 F.2d 334, 338 (7th Cir. 1953). See generally, Bader v. Electronics for 7 Imaging, Inc., 195 F.R.D. 659, 662-663 (N.D. Cal. 2000) (court granted voluntary dismissal to pursue 8 pending parallel state action, even though change from federal to state court might create tactical 9 disadvantage to defendants.)

10 Here, Defendant has alleged no legal prejudice and none appears to exist. Plaintiff filed her 11 motion less than one month after removal, the parties have conducted no formal discovery, and 12 Defendant does not allege the unavailability of a relevant defense in state court. The potential tactical 13 advantage gained by Plaintiff does not constitute legal prejudice. Hamilton v. Firestone, 679 F.2d 143, 14 145 (9th Cir. 1982) (legal prejudice does “not result simply when [a] defendant faces the prospects of 15 a second lawsuit or when [a] plaintiff merely gains some tactical advantage.”)

16 For these reasons, Plaintiff’s motion is granted and the action is dismissed without prejudice.

17 IT IS SO ORDERED.
